Summer Session 1: APIMEDA Course List

Courses listed are a partial listing of courses that APIMEDA Programs and Services is aware of that are offered during Summer Session I in 2021. Please check with the Departments to confirm offerings and other course information.

Anthropology

- ANTH 21. Race and Racisms
  - Why does racism still matter? How is racism experienced in the United States and across the globe? With insights from the biology of human variation, archaeology, colonial history, and sociocultural anthropology, we examine how notions of race and ethnicity structure contemporary societies.

- ANTH 23. Debating Multiculturalism: Race, Ethnicity, and Class in American Societies
  - This course focuses on the debate about multiculturalism in American society. It examines the interaction of race, ethnicity, and class, historically and comparatively, and considers the problem of citizenship in relation to the growing polarization of multiple social identities.

Communication

- COMM 114D. CSI: New Media, Youth, and Democracy
  - Does “new media” deliver on its promise to expand access to public participation? We will analyze, produce, and counter narratives about media, youth, and democracy. The course should interest students who care about politics, human development, community engagement, or human computer interaction.

Critical Gender Studies

- CGS 105. Queer Theory
  - Examines the different methodologies and disciplinary histories that together constitute the interdisciplinary project called queer studies. Of particular interest will be how these different methodologies and history construe and construct the relations between gender, race, class, and nation.

- CGS 112. Sexuality and Nation
  - (Cross-listed with ETHN 127.) This course explores the nexus of sex, race, ethnicity, gender, and nation and considers their influence on identity, sexuality, migration movement and borders, and other social, cultural, and political issues that these constructs affect. Prerequisites: upper-division standing or consent of instructor.

- CGS 150. Visuality, Sexuality, and Race
  - (Cross-listed with ETHN 150.) Examines the role of the visual in power relations; the production of what we see regarding race and sexuality; the interconnected history of the caste system, plantation slavery, visuality and contemporary society; decolonial and queer counternarratives to visuality.

Ethnic Studies
- ETHN 113. Decolonizing Education
  - This course considers decolonial theories of education in relation to classroom pedagogy, focusing on US urban high schools.

Rady School of Management
- MGT 18GS. Managing Diverse Teams
  - The modern workplace includes people different in culture, gender, age, language, religion, education, and more. Students will learn why diverse teams make better decisions and are often integral to the success of organizations. Topics include challenges of diversity, and the impact of emotional, social, and cultural intelligence on team success. Content will include significant attention to the experiences of Asian Americans and African Americans as members and leaders of such diverse teams.

Political Science
- POLI 100H. Race and Ethnicity in American Politics
  - This course examines the processes by which racial and ethnic groups have/have not been incorporated into the American political system. The course focuses on the political experiences of European immigrant groups, blacks, Latinos, and Asians.
